higher. General strength was displayed at the opening, but there was no wild uprush which would have implied that advance could not hold. On the contrary, the list gave early evidence of its ability to sustain a rise. Only casual and slight recessions took place under profit taking at any stage, even in the last hour, and some influential issues closed at the top.

War order considerations seemed to be uppermost in the trading, but buying spread to all departments and descriptions. The metal group and the war stocks enjoyed most favor and displayed most strength, American Smelting being a conspicuous leader. United KIDDER, PEABODY & CO

OCKS CLOSING.

Regarding the "war stocks," in which speculation is especially keen just now. Moody's Magazine has a few words to say as follows: "The numerous inquiries as to the advisability of buying or selling the issues of this or that company which is sues of this or the sues of this or that company which is sues of this or that company which is sues of this or the sues of this or the sues of the ing or selling the issues of this or that company which is reported to have on hand a large volume of war orders have shown that the million of the property o vestments at these prices. They ought to prove good speculations, simply beto prove good speculations, simply because they have not advanced nearly as much as such slocks usually do advance in war times. During the civil war fifteen representative railroad stocks which got no great benefit from the war advanced an average of 76½ per cent. the rise being measured in gold, not paper. It would be quite in accordance with past experience if to-day's war stocks should show an average appreciation of 150 per cent. to 200 per cent, from the prices prevailing last July. Still it is highly important for buyers of such stocks to realize that they are speculating rather than investing, and to realize also that the basis of the rise in the stocks is war orders and that as soon as these cease to come in the boom is pretty certain to collapse." cease to come in the boom is pretty

Ordnance Shares.

Whether it was mere coincidence or not, the sending of the President's second note to Germany was marked by another furious advance in the prices of the ordnance shares. The market fairly boiled. Savage Arms Company stock went from 175 to 195 on a report that the concern had received a contract for a million rifles. Du Pont sold at another high record price of 502. contract for a million rines. Du Font sold at another high record price of 502, which is an advance of 90 points this week. Ætna Powder went to 132, up 25 points this week. Electric Boat jumped again, this time from 89 to 109. The market for these shares has always been an extrawally surrous one 109. The market for these shares has always been an extremely narrow one. They are concentrated in few hands. The present advance has not greatly changed this condition. The public interest is still small. The present demand is said to proceed largely from directors, officers and employees of the companies themselves.
